City Gets $1720 Check On Sales Tax Collections

Campbell's city treasury replenished by a check from the state controller this week for $1,720.24, representing the local sales tax collected for November sales in this city from taxpayers who must file returns at monthly intervals.

It is the second check the City has received since the county-wide sales tax went into effect October 1, 1956. The first check which came last month based on October sales was $81 more. It totalled $1,801.34. The state controller's office explained that these checks represent only a small fraction of the receipts for sales made during the last quarter of 1956.

The next check that the city will receive (probably by mid-March) should tell the tale of whether the sales tax income for the City of Campbell is coming up to expectations. This check will include not only the collections for the month of December from taxpayers who report at monthly intervals but also from those who report at quarterly intervals and for the 1956 calendar year for those who report annually.

City officials are anxiously waiting for the next check as it will give them an indication as to wheher they have been shooting too high on their budget. Estimates of the year's income from the tax have varied from $40,000 to $60,000 but the tax will have been in effect for only three quarters before the end of the fiscal year on June 30 and only two of the periods being credited against income for this year.

The state controller's office reported that the second check differed by only one-half of one per cent from the amount distributed to the cities and counties throughout the state. In the statewide picture, the City of Los Angeles, the County of Los Angeles and the City of San Diego, in that order received the greatest amount this time.

In Santa Clara County, although six of the cities showed a slight drop in income from the first check, seven showed slight gains. Again the City of San Jose with $57,345.14 got the biggest share, with the county pressing closely with $50,418,32. San Jose's share represented a drop of $6,743.38 while the county's share was up $624. There was no change in "rank" from the first check in the 13 of the 15 cities. (Neither Saratoga nor Los Altos Hills are eligible for the fourth quarter).

The City of Campbell with $1,720.24 ranked ninth among the cities outscoring Morgan Hill ($1,322.33); Cupertino ($[illegible]41.63); Milpitas ($490.78) and Alviso (164.44). Following San Jose and topping Campbell were: Palo Alto ($17,219.67); Mountain View ($9,481.28); Santa Clara (6,903.64); Sunnyvale ($6,266.64); Los Altos ($5,001.91); Los Gatos ($4,175.53) and Gilroy ($2,350.11).

On The Line in Campbell

Students of Campbell High School who desire polio shots will have the opportunity to have the first in a series of three injections during the month of March, it was reported this week. Dr. Robert Wade, school physician, three county nurses and Mrs. Alfred Runge, school nurse, and PTA members will assist in administering the shots. Faculty members will also be able to obtain shots.

Willard Cartwright, speaking representative of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of California, will address the Santa Clara County Sojourners Association at the regular monthly breakfast meeting this Sunday at the Campbell Oddfellows Hall. The breakfast will be served at 8:30 a.m. under the auspices of Homer Widener, breakfast chef, and Ed Stanley, Sojourners president. All Sojourners in any part of the county are invited to attend.

The name of Karen Siegel should have been included in the list of 58 students of Campbell High who made "straight A's" for the first semester. Her sister, Lois, was listed but not Karen. The girls are he daughters of Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Siegel and we regret the oversight for The Press recognizes that it is quite an achievement for one family. Incidentally, the requirements for the California Scholraship Federation are three points for A, one point for a B with a total of ten points required for qualifications. "C's" just don't count.

The Campbell Police report that three burglaries or attempted burglaries took place over the weekend. On Friday night, Fred Meason's Lunch, 23 Winchester Road was broken into. Entry was made through the rear door and an estimated $40 taken from the juke box. On the same night, police report, an attempted burglary was made at the Sno-White on E. Campbell Ave. An apparent attempt with a screw driver was made to get into the juke box located in front of the drive-in.

On Sunday night the Monroe School was broken into and $10 was taken from the main office. Desks in other rooms were rifled but nothing was reported missing from them.

Storm Brings Rain And Power Blackout

A power blackout early Saturday morning turned out to be about the only tangible evidence locally of the storm that struck California over the weekend.

During the height of the storm, however, a watchful eye was kept on the flood-prone San Tomas Creek which was reported to have risen to about four-feet below bridge level. A number of calls were received by the Campbell police during the storm, most of them pertaining to the blackout which lasted more than two hours from about 3 a.m. to 5:30 a.m. and was caused by the power lines struck down with the poles.

The storm over the weekend plus the rain Tuesday of .20 brought 2:30 inches of rain to Campbell raising the season's total to date to 8.52 inches, compared to 19.55 inches at this time last year, the Campbell Water Co. reports. Normal rainfall to date is 10.69 and normal for the season is 14.08 inches. Last year, however, 21.25 inches fell.

Schools Continue To Try to Keep Pace with Growth

(1) On Monday he state Allocations Board granted the Campbell Union High School District $394,000 to continue with the construction of another unit of Camden High School and (2) Tomorrow the Sherman Oaks School, newest in the Campbell elementary district, opens for business.

The $384,000 grant from the state will complete 14 more classrooms at Camden High and complete the football and baseball fields. Construction is expected to start in 80 days in order to bet completetd in timet for the Fall opening when for the first timet theret will be four classes enrolled. The enrollment will jump from about 1067 to 1600 next year.

Still to be completed at Camden are the art and music buildings and the girls gym.

Superintendent William Henleu of the elementary disric reports that the pupils will move into the new Sherman Oaks School tomorrow afternoon. Buses will run on a staggered schedule taking students now housed at Hamilton, Moorpark and Rosemary. Mark Jennings, principal, and his secretary, Mrs. Beverly Muir, have been stationed at the school all week preparing for the opening.

"Growing Pains" Give City Council Worries

Campbell's "growing pains" were especially acute at the City Council meeting Monday night and the City Fathers made a valiant attempt to ease the pangs somewhat.

Heading the long list of aches resulting from the ever-expanding area was the problem of annexations. In rapid-fire order the Council(1) Abandonded for the time being one annexation in the proposed industrial park on the southern limits because there was some question of how many voters were registered in the parcel; (2) Informed an objector (Mrs. Howard Clarke, on E. Parr Ave.,) to another proposed annexation that the section she was interesed in was not before the Council' (3) Agreed to hold a special meeting, if it would expedite matters on still another annexation in which two industrialists present at the meeting, R. L. Townsend and H. J. F. Ludeman, both of Wichita, Kansas, desired to build as soon as possible: (4) Directed City Engineer Mark Thomas to resubmit an annexation proposal that would bring into the City two lots south of Hacienda Ave. Thomas had presented a plan that would extend a strip nearly a mile down Virginia Ave., from Budd Ave. in order to pick up the two lots owned by Eugene Rafelo and Kenneth Taylor. The Council though either the annexation should come up from the south or should take in more than just a strip along Virginia.

In other actions, the Council:

1. Discussed for almost two hours a written report from City Engineer Thomas on a variety of subjects dealing with various improvements of the city. The Council based on the report established the type af paving that would be necessary for a subdivider to install on 120-foot streets.

2. Appointed an impressive committee consisting of Traffic Engineer Richard Morton, Building Inspector W. L. Morser, City ning Consultant Nestor Barrett Attorney Joseph Bonacina, and Planning Consultant Nestor Barrett to wait on the Romani Bros., owners of the Campbell Shopping Center, in order to alleviate the bad ingress and egress situation that exists there.

It was pointed out that each one of the city officials had contacted the firm individually in the past. The matter came to a head by the request of Bill Means, of Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, who pointed out the seriousness of the situation at the Center because of the narrow entrance to the parking lot. It is necessary to widen the entrance because of the danger that now exists, he explained.

The owners had failed to comply with all previous requests.

Mayor Takes Stand Against The Stands

Although it is o. k. with the Planning Commission that perennial fireworks and cherry stands set up shop on the corner of San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Hamilton Ave., Mayor John M. Chargin takes a dim view of the idea.

This was apparent Thursday night when Mayor Chargin in a written note to the Commission suggested that steps be taken to rezone that section from commercial to residential. He said that each year there is big talk about a shopping center being located there just at the time when parties are applying for a permit to sell fireworks and cherries. But nothing ever comes of it, except fireworks and cherries.

But the Commission apparently thought otherwise. That is, all except Commissioner Ted Solari. He was the lone negative vote on the application of A. Perucci (Mayfair Packing Co.,) for the cherry stand and Paul Knoll for the fireworks job.

$ AWARDS CERTIFICATE

The City Council on Monday authorized the awarding of a Certificate of Merit to Frank Cutting, local artist, for his gift to the City of a painting for the Council Chambers. The Council also extended its thanks to the Campbell Council of Republican Women for the gift of flowers for the new City Hall.

Planners Give O.K. To Post Office Site

Armed with the necessary use permit and parking and setback variances, Oliver Jensen and Henry Jewell conferred with postal officials in San Francisco on Wednesday of this week on plans for a new post office building to be located at N. First and Campbell Ave.

The status of the location of the post office had remained in abeyance for the past few weeks awaiting action by the Planning Commission. The Commission last Thursday night approved the applications for the use permit and variances.

With the blessing of the City Planners, Jensen and Jewell this week presented the tentative building plans to regional postal officials. If the department agrees on the price, plans and the location, Jensen and Jewell will be asked to give a land option to the post office department for the site at a set price.

The department will then call for bids on a lease arrangement for a building constructed to their specifications. The successful bidder will be able to purchase the site for the price set in the land option. Jensen and Jewell will also be able to bid, if they so desire.

Originally the postal officials picked a site on N. Central Ave. near Grant Ave. as the location for the office. Proceedings were halted, however, when it became aparent that this location did not meet with the public's approval because of the narrow street and lack of parking facilities.

At almost the same time Jensen and Jewell were granted an option to buy the old Methodist Church property at Campbell and N. First. Postal officials had previously negotiated for this location but it was not available at the time. Tentative plans for a post office building to face N. First, with entry by a 20-foot driveway onto Campbell Ave., were then drafted and submitted to the post office department.

As a use permit was necessary, because part of the property is in a residential zone, postal officials agreed to wait until the Planning Commission acted before attempting to work out a price arrangement on the property.

The location, it is understood, is priced competitively to that on N. Central Ave. except for the additional 20-foot driveway onto Campbell Ave.

It is expected that the officials will announce their decision shortly.

Some Apartments Pass, Some Don't

One 10-unit apartment building was given the o.k. of the Planning Commission Thursday night but two other requests for approval of plans for another 21 apartments were denied because of improper specifications.

Robert Wilson's 10-units on Union Ave won approval while William King's application for 16-units at N. Central and Harrison were denied as were those of F. V. Shoemake at Cherry Lane and Winchester Road.

Following a report of Commissioner Jim Tomlinson on the noise factor involved in the car wash operation proposed for Winchester Road and Latimer Ave., the Commission reversed a previous ruling and granted the request of Albert and Henry Frank. Tomlinson's report indicated that the "blower" would be directed toward Latimer Ave. and not toward the apartments at the rear which was first thought to be the case.

NOTHING SETTLED

Nothing was settled at the meeting on the application of the G and P Equipmen Rental Co. for a use permit to operate their business at 473 N. San Jose-Los Gatos Road. A. C. Goulding, 361 B. San Jose-Los Gatos Road has strenuously objected to the operation of the business adjaient to his residence. In a letter to the Commission read at the meeting, Goulding said that living has been made intolerable because of the dust and noise raised by the business next door. As a possible solution it was suggested that the business could be moved over an additional lot and the operators agreed to see if this could be worked out.

OTHER ACTION

The commission in other actions:

1. Granted the application for zone change from C-1-S to C-2-S by Kenneth Fishburn at Central Ave. and Hamilton to allow a sheet metal shop to be built.

2. Approved the zone change application of Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Perrotta from multiple residential to commercial at Winchester Road and Garrison Drive.

3. Asked Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce to become an ex-officio member of the industrial committee to help establish a satisfactory boundary line between the controlled industrial and other industry.

Cava was also asked to meet with the industrial group and Nester Barrett, planning consultant, this Friday afternoon, to explain what industries had already purchased property in the area and what others planned to come in. A number of the commissioners admitted that they were uninformed as to the status of the situation in regard to industries either located or planned to locate.

Among those present who were vitally concerned over the plans of the Commission in developing the industrial area was Douglas Beatty, of the Western Gravel Co., and president of the Chamber of Commerce. Beatty told the Commission that his company owned considerable property in the section and had drawn up tentative

City Can Get Needed Improvements, But It Will Cost You Money

EDITOR'S NOTE: This it the first of a series dealing with needed city improvements and how they can be obtained. Councilman Richard Morton, the city's first mayor and who has the unique position of having served continuously on the Council since Campbell was incorporated, has cooperated with The Press in this presentation.

Included in the final article will be a "straw ballot" with which citizens of Campbell can cast their "vote" as to which way they wish to go, improvementwise.—G. V.

The First of a Series

Since the City of Campbell was incorporated on March 28, 1952, many changes have taken place but the City Administration wonders if the people feel there have been enough changes. Campbell, in a municipal sense, has developed during these five years from nothing to an active, thriving municipality. The services now furnished, however, are the minimum and a great many municipal services have been deferred.

As a new city without the knowledge or experience upon which to predict income, the Administration has necessarily been cautious on its approach as to its projected income and has also gone on the assumption that adequate operating reserves should be created.

Your City Council has also felt that the various departments of the City should be built slowly so as to gain strength therefrom. Still another factor to be considered in this approach is that your councilmen have been keenly aware that this community has had an extremely conservative attitude.

Reached A Plateau

It would now seem that we have reached a plateau in our municipal development. The City of Campbell must make a choice as to whether it shall remain an essentially rural city or shall it urbanize to one degree or another.

The level of services rendered in any city is the level or degree of services that the citizens of that city desire. If the administration of a city is at all cognizant of the wishes of the citizenry, the people will be given the type of government and receive the extent of services that they want and are willing to pay for.

Your Council serves at the will and pleasure of those who elect them. Their goal is to try. to the best of their ability, to represent all the citizens and certainly to do what the majority of those citizens want them to do. But they must know your desires.

But What Do You Want?

The Council does not know at this time what you want. True, small groups have contacted them on specific matters but what the great mass of citizenry has expected from its administration is still an unknown factor. From these reports it is hoped to ascertain what the people think should be done in the future.

Through this series, the possibilities for improvements and expansions of municipal services rendered by the City of Campbell that might be taken on your behalf will be outlined. However, it must be emphasized that these improvements are the opinions of one councilman and not necessarily those of the City Council as a whole. In other words, this is not an official presentation.

Starting with streets and highways in this issue, each field of municipal service will be described, showing where they can be expanded or in what way they are deficient.

Costs Included

The purpose will be to outline the costs, both direct and hidden, that might be expected or anticipated in connection with any improvements. The costs will be only approximate and not the result of any detailed engineering study. These improvements and costs however, must be considered directly with the method of financing. Therefore this analysis will also include this phase of the matter.

Finally the citizens of Campbell will be asked to indicate in some form of a straw ballott, after this outline has been presented as to whether or not they wish to proceed.

STREETS AND HIGHWAYS

One of the most obvious fields in which the level of municipal services in the city of Campbell can be raised is with respect to streets and highways. Other than basic maintenance and repair of existing streets, including the recent surface placed upon Winchester Road, the only major work during the five year period of cityhood is the widening and reconstruction of Hamilton Avenue between Winchester Road and Central Avenue which work is now in progress.

The problems in this situation are certainly apparent when it is noted that only a small portion of the streets in town exceed two traffic lanes in width. Our road system is exactly the same as it was 25 years ago, so far as automobile capacity is concerned. Yet the number of automobies has increased tens and tens of times.

Major and Minor Streets

From a construction and repair aspect city streets may be classified as major and minor. Major streets are those which are designed and intended to be used as carrying traffic either into or out of a municipality or carrying through traffic from one point in a municipality to another. Minor streets on the other hand are those which are not designed or intended to carry through traffic but are designed or intended to serve the purposes of those who reside adjacent to such streets.

The distinction is an important one, inasmuch as the city must have a primary concern with its major streets when it contemplates the expenditure of general funds supplied by all of the citizens. This report and analysis will be directed toward the problems as they exist with respect to the major streets, although the minor or local streets so far as repair and maintenance are concerned will be discussed.

Your city administration is fully cognizant of the deficiency that presently exists with respect to the major streets of Campbell. Our City Engineer in a report to the Division of Highways of the State of California has stated that there is a total of 6.40 miles of deficient streets, that there are seven deficient bridges and culverts and that the total estimated cost for correcting these deficiencies which are designated as "critical", is $1,434,460.

In the main, the deficiencies reported consist of insufficient width and number of traffic lanes, and sub-standard surfaces. The situation, however, is not quite as black as that painted by the report, because the correction of all of these deficiencies would be the very optimum of service.

Report in 1956

The city engineer's office made another survey and analysis of the major street situation and submitted its report to the Council in January of 1956. This report is

Improving Family and Community Living

Local Clubs Participate in Week Honoring All 4-H Members in U.S.A.

Both the Campbell and Cambrian 4-H Clubs are making plans for increased community service, it was reported this week, as the two clubs join all the 4-H Clubs in the nation in the observance of National 4-H Club Week March 2-9.

The Campbell club under the leadership of Richard Slauter has a membership of 32 while the Cambrian club directed by Al McClintock has 46 boys and girls enrolled. The activities and events are planned and conducted by the County 4-H Club Council under the supervision of George D. Shambrook, assistant farm advisor in charge of 4-H work.

Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible for 4-H clubs and one of the requirements for membership is the enrolling for and completing a home project. These projects can be related either to home or farm and are undertaken with the help of parents and leaders. Members of the Campbell and Cambrian clubs are enrolled in 109 projects.

The theme of National 4-H Club Week is "Improving Family and Community Living" and members of the two local clubs are using window displays and other means to carry out the theme during the week.

The many activities of the two clubs are guided by the corp of volunteer local leaders who are headed in the area by Slauter and Mc Clintock. These leaders are W. C. Wrigglesworth, John Martin, Mary Rose DePalma, Mrs. Julia Domboski and Mrs. Diana Payne in the Campbell club, and in the Cambrian club the leaders are Mrs. Faith Campbell, Mrs. Lillian Howard, Mrs. Hope Randolph, Mrs. ElNora Handley, Mrs. Carolyn Gilbert, Paul Ratchford, Marvin Wise, Algia H. Smith, William A. Gilbert and Mrs. Dorothy Marsyes.

Each of the clubs have their own list of club officers who guide the activities of each of their activities. The officers of the Campbell club are Karen Furcher, president; Patrick Wrigglesworth, vice president; Pat Murphy, secretary; Marcia Slauter, treasurer and Bob Carnesseca, reporter. The Cambrian club officers are Barbara Donohue, president; Mary Gilbert, vice-president; Nella Randolph, secretary; Sunny Thornagle, treasurer and Elizabeth Smith, reporter.

Some members are interested in leadership. They have found the junior leader project an excellent way to obtain training and a chance to help young members. In the county there are 95 boys and girls enrolled in this interesting project.

Both the Cambrian and Campbell clubs will take part in most of the county-wide 4-H events such as the Demonstration Day, Field Day, Summer Camp and County Fair. They will be joined by the 1075 boys and girls enrolled in the county's 25 local clubs in these county wide events.

The Cambrian Club meets in the Cambrian Youth Center on the second Friday of the month, while the Campbell club meets in the Cherry Lane School on the first Monday.

plans for its development.

Steve Goodman, manager of Sanitation District No. 4, who was also present referred to the district's plan to build a corporation yard in the same area.

One of the main points of contention in regard to "controlled manufacturing" is the question of limiting acreage to not less than two acres for any industry. It was apparent that this idea would meet severe opposition.

Until the Commission hears from its industrial committee no action would be taken on any of these problems, it was agreed.

Industries Plan For Sewer Lines

Under the direction of Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce owners of property in the new industrial park of Campbell (along Parr Ave.) were signing the petition this week for the installation of sewers in the area, the first step required in the development of the areta.

The petition was drawn up after Steve Goodman, manager of Sanitation District No. 4, explained to the industrialasts, and others last Wednesday night what procedures that have to be gone through to adequately servet the area. Six industries planning to locate in the area were represented at the meeting presided over by Cava held in he City Hall. All six have signed the petition, Cava reported this weetk.

KIWANIS CLUB

Kiwanis Club will meet Tuesday, March 5, at 12 noon in the Library Building at First and Campbell Avenues. A film, "A is for Atom" will be shown. A. P. Baer, manager of control design engineering for General Electric will be the speaker.

If You Want Improvements, It Will Cost

much more detailed and is based upon more engineering data. It concerns Winchester Road from the North City Limits to the South City Limits, Hamilton Avenue from Winchester Road to the Route 5 Freeway, Hamilton Avenue from the Route 5 Freeway to the San Jose-Los Gatos Road, Campbell Avenue from Winchester Road to the then Western City Limits and Campbell Avenue from the Southern Pacific railroad tracks to the San Jose-Los Gatos road.

The basic improvement discussed in this report is the widening of these roads and construction of an asphaltic concrete surface for four traffic lanes with improved shoulders. The total estimated cost for this work would be $417,430.

This amount, however, does not include improvement of Campbell Avenue from the S. P. tracks to the San Jose-Los Gatos Road, which project does not require immediate attention.

If in additiion to the widening there were constructed two parking lanes, concrete curb, gutter and sidewalk for each of the units and a traffic dividing strip for Hamilton Avenue and Winchester Road, the total estimated cost for the entire project is $604,850. High cost factors are found particularly in the acquisition of rights of way for the widening, and the replacement of the bridge on Hamilton Avenue over the Los Gatos creek and the bridge on Campbell Avenue over the San Tomas Creek.

If these improvements were undertaken they should be combined with a signalization program which would require the installation of electric automatic traffic signals at the intersection of Winchester Road and Hamilton Avenue and Winchester Road and Campbell Avenue. The cost of these signals would be approximately $36,000.

This would make a grand total of $640,850.

The construction of these new highways would not effect a net increase in the cost of maintenance and repair. While there would be additional expense by reason of the increase in width due to additional painting, striping and the like, this would be more than counter-balanced by the freedom from making repairs on a new surface.

Not Complete Answer

Such a plan of improvement would not be the complete answer for all time for the traffic ills of our city. It would not provide for the improvement of Latimer Avenue, Rincon Avenue and Budd Avenue. It would not provide for the extension of Hamilton Avenue in a westerly direction direction of San Tomas Road.

It would not provide for the improvement of Campbell Avenue between Winchester Road and the Southern Pacific railroad tracks which would require a monumental cost. It would not provide for the improvement of Kennedy Avenue and Railroad Avenue as a truck by-pass route.

But the plan would, if undertaken, provide a system of through streets and highways within our city which would adequately carry our present traffic load which we might reasonably anticipate for the next ten years.

The improvements here presented contemplate the reconstruction of the designated major streets but it will not reconstruct a street that runs in front of the individual taxpayers house unless he lives on one of those major streets.

Many of the streets constructed in our community before we became a city are of substandard quality. There are the so called subdivision or local streets which have a surface commonly known as "oil and screenings". The city does not now permit construction of streets with this surface but the county did before we became a city. If the street is not a major street, the improvement by residents on them, may be made only by utilizing the program of local assessment proceedings wherein the particular properties benefited pay the cost of making the improvements.

City Must Repair

It remains the duty of the city, though, to repair and maintain all streets within the city whether they be major or minor. The distinction is between repair of a street and reconstruction thereof. The administration has used all available funds that it has for repairing and maintaining streets from year to year. It is conceivable that the citizens of Campbell may nevertheless desire the level of this service of repair and maintenance to be increased. The Council would certainly like to know whether or not this is so.

If we fould assume that it is the desire of the citizens to double the street and road repair work, certain increased expenditures would be necessary. There would have to be an original capital outlay for automotive and road equipment in the approximate sum of $11,000. In addition more personnel to the extent of two men would have to be added to the public works department. Likewise the expenditure for road materials would be increased. It is estimated that the cost per year would be approximately $9,500. This is the equivalent of a 10c increase in our tax rate based on our present assessed valuation.

It Will Cost Money

The City Council of Campbell can get better streets and roads for you. They certainly can provide you with better maintenance and repair of what you have. But new roads, wider roads, better roads, and better repair of roads will cost you money. Do you want them that badly?

Next week the problem of storm sewers, a corporation yard and the establishment of a revolving fund for the purpose of expanding new developments will be discussed.

Until then, good driving.

Rotarians Start Local Campaign On Safe Walking

You don't have to pass a licensing test to be a pedestrian, but the knowledge of a few safe walking rules may save your life.

This was the reminder issued today by the Campbell Rotary Club's community service chairman, Douglas Fitzgerald. The local group is co-operating with the Santa Clara County chapter, National Safety Council, in sponsoring Safe Walking Week March 3-9.

Safe Walking Week is one of the highlights of a year-round safety program carried on by Campbell Rotarians. In conjunction with Safe Walking Week, the National Safety Council has conducted an intensive six-week program on pedestrian education.

The campaign for safe pedestrian practices is conducted in the winter months because walking becomes especially dangerous at this time of the year. Rain and early-morning fogs make visibility poor and footing precarious. Such weather conditions also make it difficult for motorists to see pedestrians and to control their vehicles, Fitzgerald warned.

The five pedestrian rules being repeated over and over again by the safety campaigners are:

1. Cross streets at intersections or in marked crosswalks.
2. Never walk into the street from behind parked cars.
3. Wait on the curb for a break in the traffic flow or signal change.
4. Face traffic and walk on the left if there are no sidewalks.
5. At night, always carry or wear something white or of reflective cloth.

Population Trend Turns West Valley Into Big Market

A big commercial market is developing today in the West Valley as he population trend continues to increase, according to Carl Thorsby, planning consultant, in a talk at the Tuesday morning breakfast meeting of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Realtors.

Of the 12 million dollars in new commercial business for Santa Clara County today, at least 1½ million dollars of this is accountable for the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga area.

Charting census growth just as do school boards in projecting enrollment figures, Thorsby said the thousands of children in schools today will likely settle in the county at maturity which number with those coming in from the outside will bring the population to one million within a five mile radius by 1975. He said there would be a million in the county by 1970.

Of the 512,000 in the county today, 350,000 are within our five mile radius. The south end of the bay is due for tremendous growth, commercially and industrially. He said that San Mateo is the corridor of the peninsula to the Golden Gate and expansion there is limited.

The tight money market has caused a set back in home building, but there now is an upswing with private money coming in. In 1956 about 8% of the mortgage money was from private sources while today the loans are 25% from this source.

In the next few years the area will need one and a half million square feet of new commercial floor space. Highway traffic is being congested and even the Route 5 freeway will not be able to cope with this, so there will have to be some substitute for motor car traffic. There may have to be a rapid transit system set up for Santa Clara County alone with numerous feeder routes, the main lines connecting with San Francisco and East Bay lines.

Unless we prepare now with parks, transportation mediums, hospitals and other facilities we may, in 15 years, resemble the Los Angeles, Chicago and other metropolitan areas of today.

Hattie Dunham, 90, Former Resident, Passes Away In Los Gatos Sanitarium

Mrs. Harriett (Hattie) Philena Dunham, 90, well-known former resident of Campbell for many years, passed away Tuesday in a Los Gatos sanitarium after a brief illness. She was the mother of Mrs. Myrtle Scott, wife of hte Campbell Fire Chief, and grandmother of Evelyn Adamson, deputy city clerk of the City of Campbell.

A native of Wisconsin, she was educated at Poctage, and became a teacher. In 1888 she married William Wesley Dunham. They had four daughters, two of whom are still living, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Hazel A. McQueen of San Jose.

The family lived in Wisconsin until 1902 when Dunham came alone to California, followed soon after by his wife and children. In 1903 they settled in Campbell where Dunham followed his profession of architect-builder until his death in 1918. Mrs. Dunham continued to live in her Campbell home until 1932 when she moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. McQueen, at that time living in Oakland. Since 1942 Mrs. Dunham and the McQueens made their home at 55 Clayton Avenue, San Jose.

During her younger years Mrs. Dunham attended the First Methodist Church. She was a 51-year member of Ada Rebekah Lodge No. 223 of Campbell and a Past District Deputy President of that order. Infirmities forced her to give up outside activities a number of years ago but she remained alert and entertained herself by reading, crocheting, doing embroidery work and watching television.

Besides her daughters, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. McQueen, she leaves four granddaughters, Mrs. Barbara Andree of Sacramento, Mrs. Frances Bohnett of San Jose, Mrs. Dorothy Dalton of Campbell, and Mrs. Evelyn Adamson of Campbell; and six great-grandchildren.

Services were held Saturday, February 23, at Campbell Memorial Chapel. Interment service was by Ada Rebekah Lodge at Los Gatos Cemetery.

The highest point is Asia in Mount Everest in the Himalaya Mountains, 29,141 feet.

Water Bond Issue Does Not Call for Dams in District

No new dams are proposed in the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District bond issue, set for March 26, but the expanded facilities asked for would halt the dangerous depletion of the undergroud water storage reservoir beneath Santa Clara Valley, Dean Sullivan told County Engineers recently.

Speaking to the Engineers Club of Santa Clara County, Dean Sullivan, widely known consulting engineer, and Dean Emeritus of University of Santa Clara School of Engineering, said agriculture, industry, and domestic uses take annually 50,000 acre feet more water than present facilities of the Conservation District can put back into the underground.

The dams in the hills can now capture 144,000 acre feet of winter rain waters, but canals and percolation areas of the district will handle only 100,000 acre feet. Projects totalling $3,000,000.00 for the expansion of the canal system of the Water Conservation District, and for acquisition and development of an additional 400 acres of percolation lands would cost the taxpayers not more than sixteen cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation on their land only.

Organ Goes Modern at Program on March 11

One of the most unusual instruments to be used in the modern music trend, the Hammond Organ, will be featured at the "Biggest Show of Stars for '57" at the San Jose Civic Auditorium on Monday, March 11. Bill Doggett, an outstanding performer of the modern beat on the organ, will be the soloist.

Others appearing on the show will be Fats Domino, Clyde McPhatter, Lavern Baker, The Five Keys, Chuck Berry, Ann Cole, The Moonglows, The Five Satins, Charles Brown, Eddie Cooley and The Dimples, The Schoolboys and Paul Williams and his orchestra.

Although the organ is usually associated with solemn music, Doggett has made it into an instrument of modern music. He is currently noted for a number of records using this type of playing. More than 100 artists will be on the program.

During the past century, 21 national political conventions have been held in Chicago.

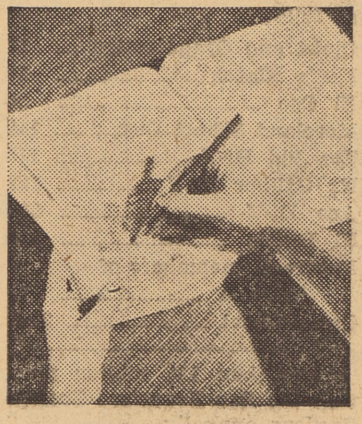
WHAT'S DOING

T. K. Nordheim, your Telephone Manager in Campbell

If a machine answers, don't be surprised—and don't hang up. What you hear is an Automatic Answering Set. It could happen when you call a business man at lunch time. Or a doctor after office hours. These remarkable machines give callers a recorded greeting, take a recorded message. They're being used more and more in offices these days. And in homes, too. By guarding against "lost" calls, they make your telephone service more useful than ever . . . worth more to you.

* * * * *



One of the most useful ways to use your telephone is for shopping. Especially when you're guided by the Yellow Pages of your telephone book. At a loss for gift or decorating ideas? Try browsing through the Yellow Pages. See if you don't come up with an answer. Have a definite service or item in mind? Page headings—in easy alphabetical order—will lead you right to it. Remember, whatever you need, you'll find it fast in the Yellow Pages.

SAFETY DRIVING PLUS is Gus Stromgren's job. At right he is shown instructing Walt Evans through one phase of a rigorous test given to each employee in our Drivers Training Safety Program. Both employees are Chief Switchmen in San Jose. Gus is measuring distance between the bumper of car and the front stanchions. This test teaches the driver the art of smooth coordinated braking essential to safe driving. In addition frequent reviews are given to insure these safety standards are met.

New Law on Car Owners' Transfer Goes Into Effect

State Moor Vehicles Director Paul Mason has cautioned that a new urgency law signed recently by Governor Goodwin J. Knight makes it illegal for a registered owner to transfer his interest in any vehicle which has been involved in a reportable accident until certain financial responsibilty requirements are met.

(A reportable accident is one in which death or injury has been caused, or where there is property damage of $100 or more, and must be reported to the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento).

The new act, introduced by Senator Earl Desmond of Sacramento as an amendement to the vehicle financial responsibility law, and passed by the Legislature in January, does not affect the right of a legal owner to take possession of the involved vehicle and to transfer registration, Mason said.

Prior to passage of the emergency amendment, a registered owner could sell the vehicle any time within 76 days after the accident report was filed. Under the new amendment it will be a misdemeanor for him to do so unless he is insured, deposists security or shows other proof of financial responsibility.

Under the new measure, the prohibition against transfer until financial responsibility provisions are satisfed applies immediately to the registered owner alone following a reportable accident.

Debaters Dropped In Los Gatos Tilt

Practicing for the state finals in debate, the Campbell High Debate teams attended a tournament last Saturday at Los Gatos Hi.

Working together for the first time were Ray Moran and John Anderson. They lost however all four debates to extremely tough competition.

In the A debate division, Everett Avila and Chuck Kaffer lost the first round to El Cerrito and drew a bye the second. They trounced St. Ignatius in the third but lost a split decision the fourth to Richmond.

The 50,000 campers expected at the Valley Forge National Scout Jamboree in July 1957 will make it the largest gathering of youth in history.

Free Polio Vaccine Will Not Reach All in State

There will not be enough free polio vaccine purchased with State funds to give protection against paralytic polio to all Californians, it has been emphasized again by Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, State Health Director.

It is estimated, said the Director, that the $3,000,000 appropriated by the legislature, will provide only enough vaccine to give two inoculations to 2,000,000 persons, which represents one-third of the 6,000,000 unvaccinated Californians under the age of forty; the population of highest polio risk.

The State vaccine, according to Dr. Merrill, will be allocated to local health departments beginning in early March. He pointed out that while vaccination programs will vary among health jurisdictions, the State Health Department has urged that planning include the establishment of local planning committees, planned promotional programs, active participation of the medical profession and accessible, free public vaccination clinics.

Harriett Hummel Succumbs at 89

Mrs. Harriett Cory Hummel, 89, lifetime resident of Santa Clara County and resident of Campbell for 36 years, passed away Tuesday after a brief illness. She was the daughter of Dr. Benjamin Cory, a noted physician of San Jose's early days and former San Jose Councilman.

Mrs. Hummel was a retired school teacher and had taught English and Math at Campbell High School for 16 years before retiring. She had been on the staff of the old San Jose Normal College before coming to Campbell. An honor graduate of Stanford University, she was founder of the Ero Sophian Society, a teacher's honor society, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Mrs. Hummel made her home at 75 N. First Street the past few years. Prior to that, the Hummels had lived in the original family home on Union Avenue for almost thirty years.

She was the widow of the late R. B. Hummel; mother of John C. Hummel and mother-in-law of Mrs. Helen Hummel of Campbell; sister of Miss Sarah Cory and Mrs. Edith Alexander of San Jose; and grandmother of Joe, Douglas, Gerald, Gary and Sandra Hummel.

Funeral servies will be held today, February 28, at 11 a.m. from the Chapel of Roses, Oak Hill Memorial Park.

FAMOUS DANCERS TO APPEAR IN BALLET

"The Merry Widow" and "Revenge", two sparkling new ballets will be presented by the Chicago Opera Ballet when it plays one performance only at the San Jose Civic Auditorium on Saturday evening, March 9 at 8:30 p. m.

"Revenge" is adapted from the opera "Ill Trovatore" and to Verdi's inspired music tells a fascinatingly tragic story of gypsy revenge. "The Merry Widow", with music by Franz Lehar, stes the scene for the ballet dancers with some of the most enchanting waltz tunes ever written.

The Ballet will be in San Jose for one performance only and tickets are available at the San Jose Civic Auditorium box office.

HONORED . . . Mrs. Margaret Singleton, first grade teacher at Hamilton School, was honored last week by the Hamilton PTA and presented with a Life Membership pin for her outstanding work with first graders for over thirty years. Mrs. Dorothy Royce, principal of Campbell Grammar School, told the PTA membership how thoroughly Mrs. Singleton has laid the educational foundation for almost one thousand children during her thirty years as a teacher and now finds her former pupils requesting her as teacher for their children.

Okiselo Camp Fire Girls Hold First Council Fire

The first Council Five of Okiselo Camp Fire Girls of San Tomas was held Friday, February 15, in honor of their sponsors, Mrs. Harold Romine and Mrs. Robert Holmon.

Highlighting the program were songs and games by the girls, followed by presentation of honor beads to the following members:

Vickie Blackburn, Nancy Boyd, Christine Conaccio, Pat Conger, Diane Ellis, Lee Freitas, Bernice Funderburg, Shirley Harris, Ellen Hill, Sharon Janes, Mary Ann Reece, Bonnie Richmond, Renetta Romine and Jerry Ann Taylor.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

PTA to Revive 'Roaring Twenties'

The "Roaring Twenties" will be revived with a bang Friday and Saturday evenings, March 8 and 9, when San Tomas School PTA presents its annual follies at 8 p.m. in the school multi-purpose room. After the revue, arrangements have been made for dancing till midnight both evenings to the music of Principal Jack Fischer's "Corn-Fed Five" orchestra. The festivities have been geared for a strictly adult affair and no provisions have been made for child care.

Songs, dances and skits will make up the program and include exhibitions of the "Charleston", "Black Bottom" and songs of the twenties, imitations of Betty Boop and Sophie Tucker, the latter by Howard Bush, a tango specialty dance by Lee and Marceline Brink and a one act pantomime, "Quiet Hotel", in which all the characters are a little on the looney side. To top is all off a magician, The Great Cunningham, will display his bag of tricks.

Tickets are now on sale and also may be purchased at the door. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

Dan Knowles Weds Sharon Lynn Key In San Jose State College Chapel

Now at home in San Jose after a honeymoon ski trip to the Dodge Ridge area are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daniel Knowles who were married February 3 in Memorial Chapel at San Jose State College. The Reverend James Martin performed the ceremony in which the young couple recited their vows without coaching.

The bride is the former Sharon Lynn Key, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Key, and sister of Corry Key and Mrs. Betty Sherwood, all of Hayward, California. She is a graduate of Hayward High School where she received a PTA scholarship and is now a student at San Jose State.

Charles, or Dan, as he is better known in Campbell, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knowles of 180 W. Rincon Avenue, and brother of Mrs. George Grady of Cupertino, Mrs. Ed Geary of San Jose, Mrs. Barbara Hartmen of Campbell, Miss Selma Knowles of Boston, Massachusetts, A. G. Knowles of Campbell and Robert Knowles of San Luis Obispo. He attended Campbell schools through high school, graduating in 1939 an honor student and recipient of a PTA scholarship. A music major, he graduated from San Jose State College with distinction and departmental honors. After serving two years in the army, nine months of which was spent in Germany, he is now doing graduate work at San Jose State where he is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, music honor fraternity, and Phi Kappa Phi, graduate honor society. He is well-known throughout the area for his singing.

For her wedding, Sharon selected a ballerina-length gown styled with fitted lace bodice and bouffant net skirt and wore matching lace mitts. Her finger-tip veil depended from a juliet cap encircled with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink when escorted to the altar by her father. At the close of the ceremony, the bridegroom sang "I Love Thee" to his bride before giving her the nuptial kiss.

Preceding the bridal party and scattering petals from her basket was the white frocked flower girl, Mary Knowles, young niece of the bridegroom.

Maid of Honor was Miss Marilyn Nilstrom who wore a gown of pink crystalette and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Bridesmaids wearing identical gowns of pink crystalette and carrying bouquets of white carnations and fern were Miss Carolyn Call and Miss Diane Beckley.

Robert Hansen performed the duties of best man. Arthur Brandenburg, Murray Ralph and Larry Dawn served as ushers.

The "Wedding Prayer" was sung by Miss Selma Knowles. She was accompanied on the organ by Miss Lynne Burton.

Mother of the bride chose a pink and green silk print with green accessories and pinned on a corsage of pink carnations. Mother or the groom selected a rose crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Friendship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church, San Jose, where the young couple cut their three-tiered wedding cake and received felicitations from approximately two hundred friends before leaving on their snow trip.

Both bride and groom will continue with their college studies this semester.

MORELAND WINNER . . . Frank Lovoi, principal of Moreland School, has received a Life Membership Award for outstanding service from the Moreland PTA. "This is Your Life" was the theme used by T. O. Bergstrom, master of ceremonies, to relate highlights of Lovoi's career and present friends and relatives. Lovoi first came to Moreland in 1954 as vice principal but six months later was appointed principal. Recently, Mrs. Gussie Baker, superintendent of the Moreland District, announced Lovoi had been appointed principal of the upper grade school now being built on Campbell Avenue.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. All hardy annuals can be planted now for early spring bloom. Plant Pansies, Violas, Calendulas, Baby Primrose, Stocks and Snaps.

2. Hurry to plant all bare root plants such as Roses and Fruit Trees. Best results are obtained by planting prior to March 1.

3. This is the most effective time to spray for peach leaf curl.

4. Aphids are appearing on the new growth of many plants. Spray them before they do damage.

5. Clear the garden of snails by broadcasting bug pellets.

Planting of Shade Trees

Shade trees are highly prized in California gardens—for they improve the landscape of a home, give relief from the hot summer sun and shield patios and other outdoor living areas from strong winds.

If you've been planning on planting a shade tree to fill any of the above roles in your yard, the California Association of Nurserymen recommends that you plant now, using the bare root method. The present dormant state of shade trees allows them to be transplanted with a minimum of risk. But bare root planting must be done before new growth starts on the tree . . and that means soon.

It is best to prepare the soil and planting hole before you choose your shade trees. If you have your trees before the hole is dug, make sure you keep the tree roots moist with damp sacks or earth.

Work up the soil into a good friable condition. If the soil is heavy or sandy, work in some mulching material such as peat moss or well-rotted manure. Fertilizer must be used with care, and only with the advice of your nurseryman. Any hard-pan areas in the soil should be broken up thoroughly so there's good drainage.

Dig planting hole large enough for root developmnt. Place a mound of the soil which you have worked up in the center of the hole, high enough so the tree, sitting on it, will be at the same depth it was in the nursery.

Before you set the shade tree in the hole make sure the roots and branches are in balance. You may need to prune either the roots, the branches, or both, making certain of balance to insure normal growth.

Place the shade tree on the mound and spread ou the rooos Fill around the roots carefully, making sure there are no air pockets and flood the hole to settle the soil.. Then fill the hole completely, (if it is still not quite full) leaving a watering basin around the base of the tree. Irrigate regularly but do not fertilize until the tree is well established—in six to 12 months.

While shade trees are still in dormancy, make certain you plant one or more in your yard or garden. Your local nursery will have all the suitable varieties for your area and your nurseryman can also provide you with the tools and mulching materials you will need for bare root planting of shade trees.

Mock Orange, Viburnum

Fragrance and color in your spring garden are guaranteed if you plant the Mock Orange, the Viburnum and the Forsythia, assures the California Association of Nurserymen.

The deciduous Mock Orange (Philadelphus) is available to Californians in several named varieties, including Atlas, Belle Etoile, Favorite and Virginale. The fragrant flowers of the Mock Orange are white or cream, sometimes with a purple eye marking and they are cup shaped, single, double or small in clusters. The plant itself may grow anywhere from three to 20 feet; some varieties make fine foundation plantings while the tall growing ones can be grown as espaliers. Mock Orange shrubs will adapt themselves to most soils. They can be grown in sun in cool summer areas, but require partial shade in hot summer locales.

Viburnums divide themselves into several categories; deciduous, evergreen, fragrant and non-fragrant. There are some 30 varieties availabe to the home gardener and one of the best known is the Viburnum carlesi, slow growing, deciduous, with gray green foliage that turns red in the fall, and fragrant light pink flowers blooming in early spring. A popular Viburnum in the southern part of the state, Viburnum fragrans is also deciduous and its fragrant pink flowers bloom early in spring. A new variety, Viburnum bodnantense has attractively large and fragrant pink blooms. Viburnums can be grown as foundation shrubs, small trees or accent plants. Cultural requirements and adaptability vary according to variety. Your nurseryman will help you in the proper selection and care of your Viburnums.

Forsythia, or Golden Bells, grows in many deciduous varieties and species. The species suspensa, or Weeping Forsythia, will become eight to 10 feet tall with drooping branches covered with golden yellow, bell-like flowers in February and March. A variety of the suspensa is forunei which grows more stiffly and erect than its parents. Spring Glory, another variety, is heavy with pale yellow flowers in early spring. Its branches can be cut and brought inside in January for force indoor blooms. Forsythias will tolerate almost any soil and they are sun-loving and easy to grow. The Forsythia is best planted against a wall or in a background setting.

Flowering Quince

The year 'round beauty and color of the Flowering Quince and its showy spring flowers make it a popular choice for California gardens.

Modern Flowering Quince are fine improvements over the old varieties, and they didn't just happen, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Many years ago a California nurseryman discovered some pink seedlings blooming among a shipment of scarlet Flowering Quinces from Japan. This nurseryman, the late W. B. Clark of San Jose, then spent 25 years in careful breeding and selection to attain today's high quality Flowering Quince and these Quince range in color from white through all shades of pink, combinations of pink and white, and all shades of red.

Besides their great beauty of color, Flowering Quince bear large clusters of flowers opening in succession and blooming two and sometimes three times in the Spring. Another happy feature of the Quince is that it starts blooming right in the teeth of winter, when cut flowers are scarce in the garden.

The seasonal changes reflected on the Quince and to this deciduous plant's attractiveness. After the spring bloom, fragrant yellow fruit appear on the tree; in autumn the leaves change to yellow, and in winter the bare, leafless branches precent interesting silterns in gnarled and twisted silhouettes.

Flowering Quince should be planted in the shrubbery border among evergreen plants. They will grow from 10 to 25 feet—either as shrubs or small trees or they can be trained as hedges. Flowering Quince will grow well throughout the state and they are not particular about soil conditions.

Recent introductions include Afterglow, opening white, then shading to soft rose; Cameo, double apricot pink; Red Chief, a double ruffled deep red; and Roxana Foster, deep shell pink in the center shading to carmine rose at the margin.

PRAIRIE STATE

Illinois, the Prairie State, is the nation's leading producer of soy beans, reports the California State Automobile Association.

NOONTIME WHODUNIT

Are you all set with a hearty lunch for the school-age contingent when they come stomping in with that cold and hungry look?

You'll see the frigid, famished appearance give way to Cheshire-cat contentment when the youngsters have surrounded generous bowls of a "mystery blend" of three canned condensed soups. The delicious wholesome favorites for blending are beef, beef noodle and tomato. Most youngsters will enjoy the game of trying to figure out which canned soups you've used.

While they're puzzling, slip them grilled cheese sandwiches. They can be prepared in advance except for the grilling which is completed in a flash. Fresh fruit and milk should send them back to school ready to tackle anything from zoology to athletics.

MYSTERY SOUP

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed beef soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed beef noodle soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup
2 soup cans water

Blend soups and water; heat. Makes 6 servings. Store any left-over in refrigerator in covered container. Reheat for after-school snack . . . or breakfast!

EDITORIAL

National 4-H Week March 2-9

The week of March 2-9 has been designated as National 4-H Club Week and the theme for this year is "Improving Family and Community Living"

We think the 4-H program is doing an excellent job in building our boys and girls into better citizens of tomorrow. Above all, we think the theme for this year "Improving Family and Community Living" is especially well chosen.

If the objective implied in the theme is carried out, all the ills of the world (at least in the community) would be erased.

It encompasses the goal of all who are striving to make this world a better place in which to live.

So as we honor the 4-H'ers during the week of March 2-9, it would do well for us to remember their slogan during the other 51 weeks of the year.

It would make a pretty good "platform" for us all to carry out.

The Planners Must Know the Score

A terrific task faces the City Planning Commission in the planning for the future of this community. Members of the Commission must be well aware of the important part they have to play in the development of this area.

They have a grave and a paradoxical responsibility.

They can neither act in haste because their decisions have far-reaching import nor can they delay their decisions because of the danger of blocking needed development that will benefit the community.

We grant that members of the Planning Commission are serving without pay. What time they devote to the city's business is solely due to their desire to be of a public service. Therefore it is somewhat difficult to criticize the commissioners for their actions or lack of actions as the case may be.

But if a citizen is willing to serve on the Planning Commission, he must, for the city's ultimate welfare also accept the responsibility that goes with the position.

This means more than just attending the two meetings per month.

A commissioner to do his job properly must keep informed of what is taking place in the entire community in the way of future development.

In this fast-changing area, keeping abreast of development is a herculan task. We well know how difficult it is, for we, too, are in a similar position. We often fail to do the complete job of "covering" the various situations because they crop up so fast.

Therefore, it is not an enviable position in which City Planners find themselves. But it does exist and as long as there is expansion and growth the job will continue to be difficult.

Because the mechanics of the various phases in the present and future development call for the Planning Commission to be contacted almost at the very beginning, the impression that the commissioners give as to their knowledge of what is going on carries a great significance.

We are sorry to report that often this impression leaves much to be desired.

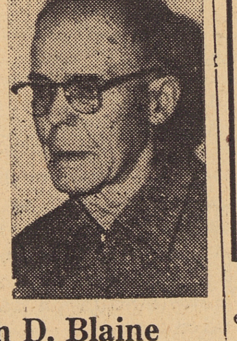
When a commissioner admits that he is not aware of a situation that is of far-reaching importance to the community, especially when it has been almost common knowledge for some time, it is a distinct disappointment.

In a sense the Planning Commission is the "show-window" of the town. Strangers who attend the commission meetings often gain their ideas of the community in general by the attitude of the Planning Commission.

When the Commissioners publicly imply that they just don't know what is going on planning-wise in the community we are a little concerned over how this attitude affects a potential Campbell tax-payer.

It is therefore, in our opinion, important that the Planners know the score.

Over the Years



By John D. Blaine

In thinking of the old days I recall the "town" of Campbell as in 1887 I first saw it. The business section on Campbell Avenue, then called Campbell's Lane, consisted of one blacksmith shop, one general store, and the post office. The last was presided over by the late Mrs. Lottie Sutter, then Miss Lottie Willet.

Campbell's Lane was so called because it had originally begun as the private driveway from Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road, now termed through Campbell Winchester Road, because the Winchester Mystery House is on it (a confusing matter obviously) — from that road, I started to say, back to Benjamin Campbell's farm house.

When a public demand for a through road became pressing Mr. Campbell moved his house to the south and turned it to face north. That house now stands just west of the present post office and is used as an apartment house. It has a history and is probably more than a century old. The road was cut through to San Jose-Los Gatos Road and was, as I said, called Campbell's Lane.

The bridge over the creek was at first of wood, and many were the battles to keep it from being washed away.

At Blacksmith Shop

The blacksmith shop, first in line from the east, was owned and operated by Frank Sprung, a sociable man who encouraged the village philosophers to congregate near the forge and swap words of wisdom. Generally on hand was Whispering Smith, retired veteran of the Civil War. Something in army experience had taken from Smith power to speak above a whisper, but he did much speaking all the same and his wit was keen.

A man who did not visit the shop was a Mr. Lewis, who lived near the bridge and was stone deaf. I think he was the father of once well-known Charley Lewis, also stone deaf, who long after the demise of the blacksmith shop was wont to philosophize on the street to any who would listen and ask, "Is that right? Is that right? That right?" I mention him in passing as an illustration of how pent up wisdom yearns for self-expression. We really need some place where such wisdom may be freely vented. Think of how many potential newspaper editors there are!

By George! Vierhus!

Late one afternoon back yonder, of all the wise ones at the shop all but Whispering Smith had left. He stood outside looking east along Campbell's Lane and observed little Fred Hanger walking across the bridge toward home. Now nature had been unkind to little Fred. In addition to being much undersized he was hard of hearing, hard of seeing, and hard of talking.

Stranger Perplexed

Presently Smith saw a man in an open one-horse buggy stop by little Fred and seem to attempt conversation with him briefly. Smith guessed that the man was a stranger inquiring the way, with complete frustration. The stranger came on and stopped by stone deaf Mr. Lewis, who was standing outside enjoying the evening sun. Smith well knew that frustration was now compounded.

As the stranger came on Smith stood forth and prepared himself. His eyes sparkled and his mouth twitched. The stranger drew up and just as Smith expected inquired the way. Smith had only to act a natural part to make the third frustration perfect. The stranger's face took on an expression of amazement and incredulity. Then he burst out, "For goodness sake! Is something wrong with everybody in this town?"

Looking up at the stranger with mock seriousness Smith put one foot on the buggy step, pulled himself up, got his mouth close to the stranger's ear and breathed, "You see, mister, it's this way. Half the people in this town lose their voices trying to make the other half hear."

That story came to mind the other day when I received by mail an advertisement of a hearing aid concealed in the frame of eyeglasses. Consider the humor in that arrangement. A seeing aid is all right, but a hearing aid is something to hide! Why isn't one as reasonable as the other?

When I need a hearing aid I'm going to get the most conspicuous one I can find. I'll attach bells to it to prove that I don't need a thinking aid.

Vivian Faulkner, our women's editor who also works part-time at the Chamber of Commerce office told us this week that the Chamber had received a request from a person in Aptos who wanted to know what was the correct way to pronounce CAMPBELL.

The person wrote that their friends from Campbell pronounced it either CAMEL or CAMP BELL or CAMP BULL. She wanted to know which was right and thought the C. of C. would have the right answer.

We appreciate the writer's quandry but we certainly are no help in this case. We just don't know ourself how to pronounce it and hope the C. of C. will come up with the right answer.

It looks simple but when we try to differentiate between the name of our city and the brand of cigarettes we smoke, we find we over-emphasize the word. We come up with CAMP BELL which doesn't seem right some how either.

—o—

Incidentally, Judge John Blaine received a letter this week from an avid reader of his column, "Over the Years" in which the writer mentioned that she was happy because the name of "Campbell" was strictly American with a good old Scotch or English background.

She said she liked it better than having to tack a "San" or "La" or "El" on it like so many California names which are based on the Spanish background of the state. After all, she points out, Spain or Mexico haven't had anything to do with the state for quite sometime.

We can't go along with her in this respect.

In our opinion, there is nothing wrong in recalling the Spanish-Mexican background of California through the medium of names for cities, rivers, mountains or what have you. There was quite a spell there in California's history when this was part of Spanish America.

Just beause so many of us trekked here from other states that had communities with "good solid American-sounding names" doesn't mean that other styles didn't exist.

Come to think of it, besides being dull as blazes, if we had only so-called "solid American" names, we would have to do away with all Indian names also.

We can think of a couple of sates where that would mean virtually renaming every town.

Anyway we like the Spanish sound in names despite the fact that many from other states have a heck of a time pronouncing them some times.

Just think of the fun we have had in hearing outsiders mispronounce San Jose.

—o—

We are very definitely opposed to the proposal put forth by the teacher lobby in Sacramento which contemplates raising an additional $70 million a year for education through higher taxes on beer and cigarettes.

And our opposition is not solely because we thoroughly enjoy a smoke or a glass of beer at the proper time and place.

We think it is an unfair tax. Period.

Why single out the consumer of cigarettes and beer to foot the bill for another $70 million for educaion? What especial advantage would the cigarette-smokers of California obtain from a sound educational program that they should be singled out for additional tax burdens?

Holy smoke, if the teacher lobby wants to carry this reasoning to a logical or an illogical conclusion, it would make just as much sense to select bald-headed men and red-haired women as their next target to help carry an added school-tax burden.

We're agin it.

—o—

We learned recently after a query was run in this column that the first interurban car ran in Campbell in December, 1904. We are indebted to Mrs. Hattie Valencia now of San Jose for this bit of information.

We had wondered when the name of this paper was changed to the Campbell Interurban Press, as it was started as the Campbell Weekly Visitor. The name was changed when the train came to town.

Thank you Mrs. Valencia. Now we know.

—o—

We had quite a chat with George R. Lewis, 440 Budd Ave. recently. He is attending San Jose State and is quite active in the Army Reserves, having spent some 11 years in the service. He is commanding officer of the 397 Signal Co., (reserves) and mentioned that his outfit was 'way below strengh.

The Lewis' have three children who are now entered in local schools and while in the service they did considerable traveling by Army orders. One of their boys was born in Tokyo. Lewis hopes to teach when he finishes college and we gathered that he and his family had grown a wee bit tired of trotting around the globe.

He told us that he originally entered college (Washington State) back in 1943 so his college career has spanned more than a decade. We think that certainly indicates perseverance of the highest calibre.

CHP Lists Drunk Driving as One Of Top Worries

Driving while under the influence of alcohol continues to press right-of-way and speed violations as one of the chief contributing causes of traffic accidents in California according to information released by the California Highway Patrol.

"During 1956 driving while under the influence of intoxicants caused 925 deaths and 29,657 injuries in traffic accidents," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This tragic toll could have been prevented by a little common sense.

Drive dry and stay out of death and injury dealing traffic accidents," Caldwell stated. "The admonition that one for the road can mean two for the cemetery applies just as much today as it did during December.

The Patrol is continuing its expanded enforcement program against the drinking driver," Caldwell concluded. "Every motorist and pedestrian can help cut our traffic toll by avoiding driving or walking in traffic even while only slightly under the influence of alcohol."

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

In 1789 at Philadelphia, the framers of our Constitution thought they were creating three branches of our Federal Government—a Congress to make our policy and laws, a Judiciary to interpret those laws, and an Executive Branch to carry out their intent. Little did our Founding Fathers realize that in less than two centuries, without the stroke of a pen or a vote of the people, a fourth branch would usurp the powers of Congress. Unwanted and unauthorized, this new branch has set itself up as a third house of Congress, twisting and turning the intent of the real Congress to suit itself. Since it has no legal name, I'll call it the House of Bureaucracy.

There are hundreds of examples of boards and commissions in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government interpreting the expressed will of Congress to suit themselves. But let's just look at one.

When Congress passed the Fair Labor Standards Act, it realized that Agriculture had a different problem than did industry, and labor performed "on the farm" was specifically exempted from the Act. The Supreme Court has, in numerous decisions, upheld the intent of Congress. But this new third House of Congress—in this case, the Wage and Hours Board of the Department of Labor—placed its own interpretation on the intent of Congress and declared that cutting a vegetable loose from the ground was still agricultural labor, but placing it in a container to be shipped to market was industrial, and, therefore, subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act, even though the job was still performed "on the farm."

Without going into the question of whether Congress was right or wrong in making this exemption, the fact still remains that here was a case of an Executive Branch of the Government clearly defying the expressed will of the Legislative Branch and the interpretation placed upon it by the Supreme Court of the United States.

What makes this third House of Congress so dangerous is the fact that it is not responsive to the people. Protected in their jobs by Civil Service regulations, they do not face election and cannot be removed from office. Our forefathers were wise indeed in their insistence upon the principle that those who made the laws and policy must be responsible to the people at the ballot box.

I, personally, feel that the legislative process is complicated enough with two Houses of Congress, and we can very well do without the third. The people have a right to the choice of the representatives who will make their policy and write their laws. The House of Bureaucracy doesn't belong in a democracy!

LAW IN ACTION

RETURNING GIFTS

With every wedding, birthday, or holiday season, there comes the day-after-the-day-before—the returned gift headache.

Aunt Nettie had pined these many years for a gaudy Victorian lamp with fringe around the shade. She had admired it as a girl. And, alas, she found one at a second-hand store.

So she snapped it up for her nephew's upcoming wedding.

Must the store take it back when amid hot tears the young couple tell Aunt Nettie they haven't room for the thing in their tiny apartment?

Well, that depends on how Aunt Nettie bought it: Did she buy it "as is"? Or "sale or return"? Or "on approval"?

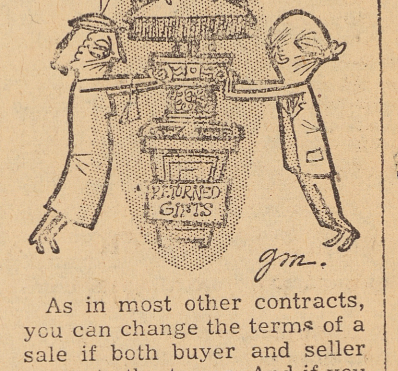
If she plunked down for the thing, the store does not have to take it back. But for a long time now most stores announce—to promote good will—the customer is always right, even when the customer is downright unreasonable.

If Auntie bought the thing on a "sale or return" basis, she owns it but may return it and get her money back. But let her drop and break it and she would have to stand the loss herself unless she insured it.

Suppose she took the lamp "on approval." Then the store really owns it, unless by deed or word Aunt Nettie indicates her desire to keep the thing. Let it be lost or broken and it would be the store's loss.

Of course, if the goods are warranted to work or be free of defects, the store or the maker must make good or take the article back.

In some lines stores today spare their headaches by renting the thing to the prospective customer for, say, a week, at a price. If it comes back in good condition, O. K., but the customer can buy it and may often have the rental count toward the purchase price.



As in most other contracts, you can change the terms of a sale if both buyer and seller agree to the terms. And if you plan to put out much money for a gift find out (1) what warranty you have, and (2) upon what terms you can return the goods, and who stands the loss if it is damaged or destroyed. You might also make sure that you have the gift covered by insurance at the moment you become responsible for its care.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

Working (?) on the Railroad

Southern Pacific Sends Campbell Man to College in Unusual Program

Ask Lester W. Burdick what he is doing these days, and he'll tell you he's working on the railroad. He is, too—in the hallowed halls of San Jose State College.

Burdick, who lives at 555 South Union Ave. in Campbell, is one of 35 employees of Southern Pacific who are enrolled in colleges across the country. Each of them is spending a semester at one of 20 universities, with the railroad paying his tuition and fees as well as his regular salary.

In Second Year

Now in its second year, Southern Pacific's college program is one of the nation's most unusual in its provisions. The scholars, each of whom has shown potential for advancement within the company, come from a wide variety of positions. Purpose of the program is to broaden their horizons, and the only restrictions made by the railroad as to what they shall study is that it have no relation whatsoever to the man's everyday job on the railroad.

Of the 35 now in school, 31 have had no college training. Two are taking advanced college work. The other two have made substantial progress toward a degree, and the railroad hopes to help them complete the requirements.

Burdick is one of these. A graduate of Los Gatos high school, he joined Southern Pacific in 1936 at San Jose as a mail and baggage handler. During the next five years, he held a variety of jobs with the railroad, and, at the same time, completed three years of study at San Jose State College.

During World War II, Burdick served as a U.S. Naval flyer, with the rank of Lieutenant. Following the end of hostilities, he returned to San Jose and Southern Pacific, and has since worked himself steadily upward until he holds the position of assistant chief clerk in the railroad's personnel division in San Francisco.

Semester at SJSC

Now 38, married, and the father of two children, Burdick will spend the next semester at San Jose State, working toward the degree in Business Administration he started earning twenty years ago. Upon termination of the semester, he'll return to his job with SP.

D. J. Russell, president of the railroad, is firmly convinced that the program is a good bargain for the railroad.

"The men who acquire some college training while they're with us gain a broad knowledge which is invaluable in any job", he says. "We're happy that we're aiding them in furthering their education, but we're also sure that we'll be richly rewarded in the future contributions they will be able to make to Southern Pacific."

Utilities Commission Reports

Deaths at Grade Crossings Drop in California in 1956 Compared to 1955

Deaths at grade crossings in California dropped 24.2 percent in 1956 as compared with 1955, based on preliminary statistics, the California Public Utilities Commission has reported.

There were 135 fatalities in railroad-highway crossings in 1956 compared to 178 the previous year.

The decrease in fatalities at grade crossings contrasts with the record total of highway deaths in motor vehicle accidents during 1956, which soared to a new high for California of 3804. Traffic injuries also set a new record in 1956 of 130,982.

The number of persons injured in 1956 in crossing accidents was down 16.6 percent from 814 in 1955 to 679 in 1956. The decline in injuries and fatalities occurred in spite of the fact that the total number of accidents increased 3.6 percent, from 2335 in 1955 to 2419 in 1056.

The drop in severity of accidents at crossings may be attributed, at least in part, to the expenditure of approximately $2,000,000 for better protection at more than 200 crossings, according to Peter E. Mitchell, Commission president. He said that 35 cities, 21 counties, nine railroads and the state have spent that amount in the past three years to install automatic gates, flashing light signals, wigwags and other devices at the state's most hazardous crossings to replace previous protective installations.

State expenditures have been made from a Crossing Protection Fund, created by the Legislature, from which the Commission may allocate up to one-half the share of cost paid by any city or county to provide better warning signals or protective devices at crossings. Of the $2,000,000 railroads have paid approximately $1,000,000, cities and counties $500,000, and the state $500,000 in allocations.

California dairymen received an estimated 313 million dollars for all milk and cream sold in 1955.

Adult Ed. Sign-up Now in Progress

New activities in Spring Adult classes reflect current requests of Campbell High School District residents, according to E. P. Stanley, director of Adult Education.

Swimming class instruction will start March 18 for both beginners and experienced swimmers. Sign-ups will also be taken for the Life Saving Certificate class.

Speakers' Round Table, with speech instructor, Alfred S. Braun, will give adults in business or club work opportunity for improvement in speaking and report preparation on an informal basis.

An afternoon class in rugmaking will be open for sign-up this week and persons interested in this homemaking activity should reserve a place soon for this class will be limited in number.

Camden Adult Center will start a shop class for men in machine lathe and metal shop; and a class in Personal Improvement for Women.

There are still openings in Business Law, Accounting and Retail Selling.

New Corporations Continue Filing At Dizzy Pace

Capitol News Service

A good question is whether or not California is going "corporation crazy" these days, as evidenced in the annual figures developed by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

While there was a slight drop-off in the number of corporations filed during 1956 over the previous year, the decrease was so slight as to be negligible. In 1956, 17,638 new corporations filed papers, compared in 1955 to 17,917.

However, Jordan has pointed out that last year's filings were 222 percent greater than the pre-war high of 5,483 in 1930, and 55 per cent greater than in the first post-war year when 11,412 new corporations were granted rights to transact business in the state.

Altogether, there are more than 100,000 corporations in California which are known as "active", that is, are licensed to do business as corporations within this state.

Not all of these, of course, are corporations for profit. The law segregates the profit making corporations from the non-profit group, which for the most part are associations, lodges, veterans organizations, and other groups formed for purely non-profit purposes.

LOW DOWN ON SPORTS

By Marvin Moore

Santa Clara Beats Fresno

Santa Clara started the week out Tuesday night putting out one of their best efforts of the season by beating Fresno. They scored 40 points in the last 20 minutes of play. Montgomery and Taylor each scored 15 points. They goofed later in the week losing to Loyola 58-57. Saturday night they came through by the skin of their teeth for a 62-59 win over Pepperdine putting them in third place in the C.B.A.

California Loses Tough One

The Washington Huskies took the California Bears 70-57 Friday for Cal's first defeat this season in P.C.C. play. Cal. came back Saturday night to take the Huskies 72-62 putting them in a tie for first place with U.C.L.A. This week should decide the race and I sure hope U.C.L.A. comes through as I picked them at the beginning of the season. Santa Clara was my pick for the C.B.A. but unless there are several upsets this week they haven't a chance.

Yanks A's Trade 13 Players

The New York Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics made one of the biggest trades in Baseball history.

The Yanks took Ditmar and Bobby Shantz, pitchers, Groff, infielder, Belardi, 1st Base and one additional player. The A's took Irv. Noren, Bill Hunter, McDermott, Morgan, Coleman, McMann and two additional players.

Mickey Vernon

Mickey Vernon, Boston 1st sacker, signed his 17th major league contract this week. In his first season with the Red Sox, last year Vernon appeared for 119 and collected a 310 batting average. He had 15 homers and 84 R.B.I's. He is a 39 year old veteran.

Brooklyn Buys Park

The Brooklyn Dodgers bought Wrigley field in Los Angeles from Phil Wrigley.

The rumor is some big league club will be out on the coast pretty soon.

Those Who Speed Are Driving to Death, CHP Says

Drivers who speed are driving themselves to death says the California Highway Patrol.

"With more and more speed being built into motor vehicles, fatal accidents involving excessive speed are increasing in number," stated Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This is evidenced by a 24 per cent increase in fatal ran off the roadway type of accidents and an over-all increase of 12 per cent in fatal accidents involving excessive speed.

Speed is the chief contributing factor in about one-third of all traffic accidents and nearly 44 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents," Caldwell declared. "A more realistic approach by drivers to the hazards of excessive speed is necessary.

The speed available in today's cars can kill if used imprudently," the commissioner concluded. "The smart driver uses speed well, never beyond the safe limits and always within the stated or posted limits."

In Fourth Place

James Lick Swamps Buc Cagers 58-35 To Push Locals 'Way Down in SCVAL

By Richard Ferguson

Fighting hard to keep their heads above water the Campbell Bucs dropped deeper into the pit when the James Lick Comets shot past the Bucs 58-35 on the losers court last Thursday evening.

Campbell was dumped into fourth place in SCVAL league play by the sound trouncing with a 5-4 record.

Mountain View plays host to the fateful Bucs Friday night at 7:30 with the hope that they will knock the Bucs out of the race almost completely. Campbell needs the victory to retain at least a share with Mt. View for a third place.

Lacking the services of star shot makers, Roger Almquist and Jerry Shenefiel, Campbell could not muster the strength to down the hustling Lick cagers. It was primarily lack of confidence in themselves with their two playmakers gone that kept the Bucs on the low side of the score.

Lick started off fast but couldn't find the range. The score was 11-5 at half time. Campbell scored a total of 5 points in the second quarter with Jim Keech and John Kriewall doing the honors. Speed was in evidence as the Comets whipped the ball down court on many occasions and dropping in two points before the Campbell defense had a chance to get set.

Cliff Barrett, the league's leading scorer, this season tallied 17 points in the slaughter but was out pointed by Leon Donohue with 18 markers. John Kriewall had a field day for Campbell grabbing some fine rebounds and slipping in 13 points in the dying cause.

Thirties Lose Too

In the preliminary game the thirties were nipped by the little Comets in the last period scoring spree. Nip and tuck the entire game Lick led 13-14 at the first quarter with the second and third quarters being almost a repeat wdith 27-26 and 37-38. Campbell played one of its best games this year even in defeat.

Ben Lujan topped the scoring column with 16 counters and the game high, with Tom Perry following with 10 points.

Mittmen Prepare For Coming Tilts

Eagerly awaiting their first game with Lincoln High, the Frosh-Soph Baseball Team is practicing diligently.

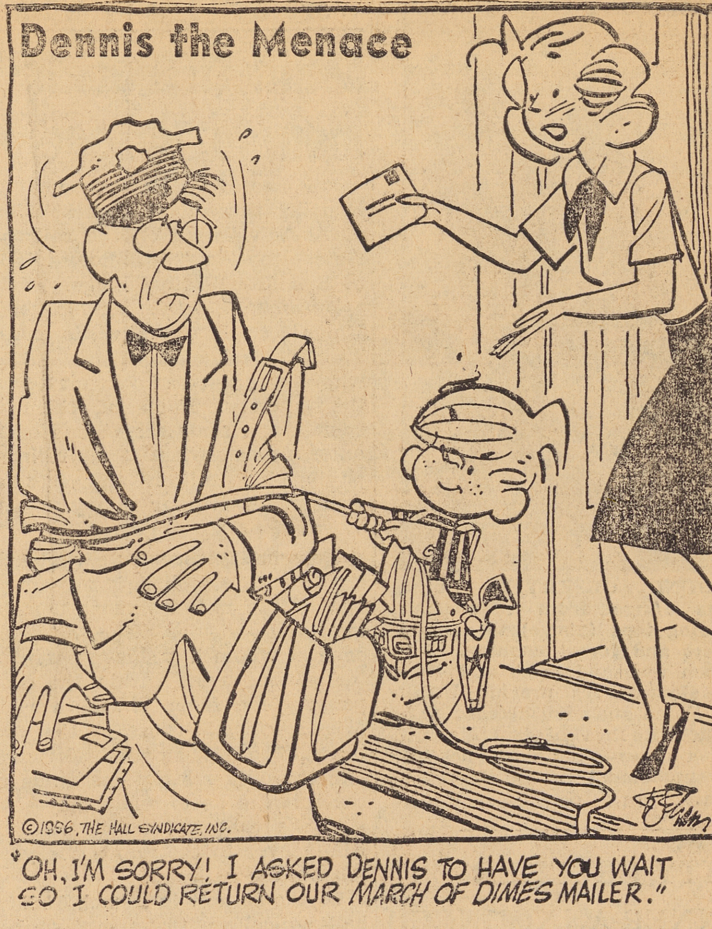
With over 30 boys out for the squad, the first string will be very hard to choose.

Back from last year's squad is Ron Corbus, Bob Whitwing, (P), and Dick Mayeda. The above people will probably be first string starters.

Schedule for the early games are:

Mar. 11—Lincoln
Mar. 19—Santa Cruz

Mr. Lou Marotti is this year's Frosh-Soph coach.



"OH, I'M SORRY! I ASKED DENNIS TO HAVE YOU WAIT SO I COULD RETURN OUR MARCH OF DIMES MAILER."

PLAN AHEAD

Much confusion and trouble can result when a motorist tries to make a turn from the improper lane. When you drive, save yourself and others needless trouble, says the California State Automobile Association, by moving into the proper lane for turning well in advance.
